LIFE IS LIKE A MAYPOLE

*Spring bows to thrill of cayenne
summer,
Dreams spiced in youthful glow
come May.
Bright ribbons wake my bare feet's slumber.*

*Spring bows to thrill of cayenne
summer!
Rainbow pleats dance, no clouds
encumber
My twirling limbs, lives weaved sashay.*

*Spring bows to thrill of cayenne
summer,
Dreams spiced in youthful glow
come May!
Spring sighs with age come
broaching summer,
Blue tears, red smiles 'round pole in
May.*

*Life's colors flow from gold to umber.
Spring sighs with age come
broaching summer!
And shall I join wind's lively number
Or watch bright ribbons twist and play?*

*Spring sighs with age come
broaching summer,
Blue tears, red smiles 'round pole in
May!*

10 HACKS TO IMPROVE YOUR MANAGEMENT SKILLS

Here are 10 ways that you can use to improve your time management skills and increase productivity.

1. Delegate Tasks: It is common for all of us to take more tasks than our desired potential. This can often result in stress and burnout. Delegation is not running away from your responsibilities but is an important function of management. Learn the art of delegating work to your subordinates as per their skills and abilities.

2. Prioritize Work: Before the start of the day, make a list of tasks that need your immediate attention as unimportant tasks can consume much of your precious time. Some tasks need to be completed on that day only while other unimportant tasks could be carried forward to next day. In short, prioritize your tasks to focus on those that are more important.

3. Avoid Procrastination: Procrastination is one of the things that badly affect the productivity. It can result in wasting essential time and energy. It should be avoided at all costs. It could be a major problem in both your career and your personal life.

4. Schedule Tasks: Carry a planner or notebook with you and list all the tasks that come to your mind. Make a simple 'To Do' list before the start of the day, prioritize the tasks, and make sure that they are attainable. To better manage your time management skills, you may think of making 3 lists: work, home, and personal.

5. Avoid Stress: Stress often occurs when we accept more work than our ability. The result is that our body starts feeling tired, which can affect our productivity. Instead, delegate tasks to your juniors and make sure to leave some time for relaxation.

6. Set up Deadlines: When you have a task at hand, set a realistic deadline and stick to it. Try to set a deadline few days before the task so that you can complete all those tasks that may get in the way. Challenge yourself and meet the deadline. Reward yourself for meeting a difficult challenge.

7. Avoid Multitasking: Most of us feel that multitasking is an efficient way of getting things done but the truth is that we do better when we focus and concentrate on one thing. Multitasking hampers productivity and should be avoided to improve time management skills.

8. Start Early: Most of the successful men and women have one thing in common. They start their day early as it gives them time to sit, think, and plan their day. When you get up early, you are more calm, creative, and clear-headed. As the day progresses, your energy levels starts going down which affects your productivity and you don't perform as well.

9. Take Some Breaks: Whenever you find yourself for 10-15 minutes, take a break. Too much stress can take toll on your body and affect your productivity. Take a walk, listen to some music or do some quick stretches. The best idea is to take off from work and spend time with your friends and family.

10. Learn to say No: Politely refuse to accept additional tasks if you think that you're already overloaded with work. Take a look at your 'To Do' list before agreeing to take on extra work.

Private School Students to Turn Buddies for Government Schools

Ludhiana 11th May 2016: Students of private schools will soon groom their counterparts studying in government schools by becoming their "Buddy for a day" under a new project of district administration. Under this, students of private schools will share their skills, ideas and knowledge with them.

With the vision of grooming and uplifting government school students, district administration approached all private schools with the idea of conducting regular combined sessions of private and government school students and teachers so that they can share their ideas, knowledge and experiences and so far, as many as 15 schools of Khanna area have agreed to this and a committee has also been constituted for the same comprising deputy district education officer (secondary) Charanjit Singh, deputy district education officer (elementary) Dimple Madaan and four representatives of private schools under the supervision of sub divisional magistrate (SDM), Khanna, IAS Shaukat Ahmed Pare. Some prominent schools like Sacred Heart Convent School, Delhi Public School, and Hindu Putri Pathshala are also part of this project.

Talking to TOI, SDM Khanna Pare said, "There would be a cultural programme followed by a session on 'introduce your buddy', some games and debates as well. Since government school students don't have much exposure, bringing them on one platform would help these students become even." Besides, the administration is also approaching some NGOs too to join hands for the cause and by the end of May.

CALL IT MAY DAY OR CALL IT LABOUR DAY

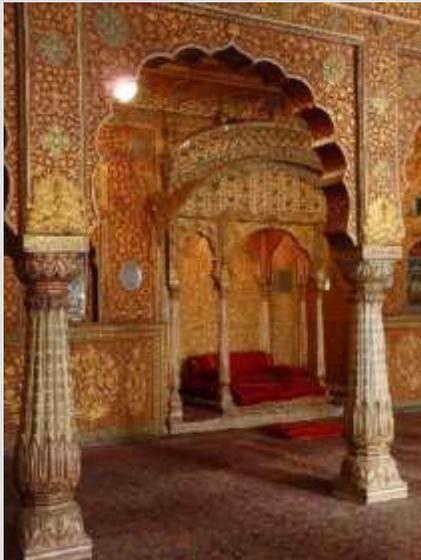

Originally a celebration of spring and the rebirth-taking place in nature, May Day dates back pagan cults that worshipped trees and other symbols of nature. Traditionally, May Day is characterized by the gathering of flowers and the fertility rite of dancing around the maypole. In recent years, particularly in socialist and Communist countries, May Day has become a labor festival honoring the military and industrial efforts of the country.

In the United Kingdom, May Day is still celebrated in many towns with the crowning of the May Queen. Maypoles can still be found in some towns and May Day traditions may include hobbyhorses and local people dressed in costumes. While in Hawaii, May Day is known as Lei Day to celebrate the island's culture.

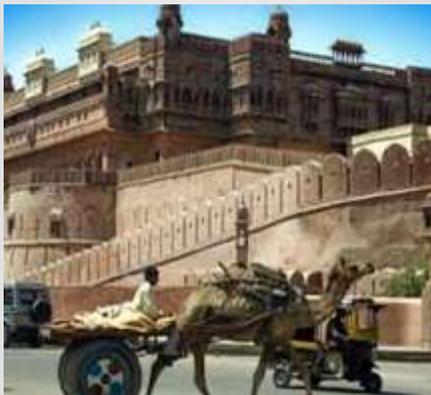

In China, Labor Day was extended to 3 days during the 1990s. The Chinese government made it a seven-day holiday by moving the prior and upcoming weekends together with these three days. This holiday allowed millions of Chinese people to travel during this period. The Chinese government reduced this holiday period down to one day in 2008, while simultaneously reviving three traditional Chinese holidays: The Dragon Boat Festival, Tomb-Sweeping Day and the Mid-Autumn Festival.

GLIMPSES OF BIKANER

USTA ART AT ITS BEST

THE PREFERRED MODE OF TRAVEL

BIKANER THE BHUJIA CAPITAL OF THE WORLD

Often when we live in a beautiful city, we soon get used to its beauty it's whimsy and its charm. Bikaner is that kind of a city, it welcomes you with warmth (literally) and before you know it you are home. The controlled chaos becomes the way of life, the honking on the roads is background music and the people jay walking adds interest to your otherwise boring ride.

Travelling to other parts of Rajasthan, one realizes that Bikaner is different; it is a place where phrases like "eat and make merry" come alive. It's easy to spot hundreds of Namkeen and Mishthan Bhandars lining the streets, each claiming to have the very best and not to forget the authentic BHUJIA. Yes, the Bhujia is the lifeline of Bikaner. This is a city that eats Bhujia with everything and surprising, as it may seem, once I tried its different combinations I'm pretty hooked up on it as well. Never did I imagine that there existed such wide variety of Bhujia's ... the fat ones, the long ones, the short ones and the flavored ones. You name it and chances are there exists a Bhujia to make you happy.

What ever you try you will not be disappointed but don't take my word for it you got to give it a try. Some might swear by Bikaneri Bhujia while others might root for Bikaner Chandmal, the list is endless. Although I must say I'm a little biased to the garlic flavored Bhujia. Now, remember that after all that tasting and trying your insides will be quite alive to say the least, this would be the perfect time to go down the heat in some cold refreshing fatty Lassi at Chotu Mottu's and that ladies and gentlemen should be a day well spent in Bikaner. Next time we shall talk about the Onion Kachoris and Crispy Samosas.
