9 Golden Teachings of Swami Vivekananda

Teaching 1 Strength, strength it is that we want so much in this life, for what we call sin and sorrow have all one cause, and that is our weakness. With weakness comes ignorance, and with ignorance comes misery.

Teaching 2 Whatever you think, that you will be. If you think yourselves weak, weak you will be; if you think yourselves strong, strong you will be

Teaching 3 Purity, patience, and perseverance are the three essentials to success, and above all, love.

Teaching 4 It is love and love alone that I preach, and I base my teaching on the great Vedantic truth of the sameness and omnipresence of the Soul of the Universe.

Teaching 5 We want that education by which character is formed, strength of mind is increased, the intellect is expanded, and by which one can stand on one's own feet.

Teaching 6 This is the gist of all worship – to be pure and to do good to others.

Teaching 7 My ideal, indeed, can be put into a few words, and that is: to preach unto mankind their divinity, and how to make it manifest in every movement of life.

Teaching 8 If you have faith in all the three hundred and thirty millions of your mythological gods, ... and still have no faith in yourselves, there is no salvation for you. Have faith in yourselves, and stand up on that faith and be strong; that is what we need.

Teaching 9 So long as the millions live in hunger and ignorance, I hold every man a traitor who, having been educated at their expense, pays not the least heed to them.

Government may announce a new 'outcome-oriented' industrial policy by October

NEW DELHI: Government will announce the new industrial policy in October this year, seeking to make India a manufacturing hub by promoting 'Make in India' and addressing the issue of slower job creation. Commerce and industry minister Nirmala Sitharaman will hold talks with stakeholders, including industry captains, think tanks and state governments in Chennai, Guwahati and Mumbai to finalise the policy.

In a press statement, Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP) said the government wants to formulate "an outcome oriented actionable industrial policy that provides direction and charts a course of action for a globally competitive Indian industry which leverages skill, scale and technology."

DIPP has floated a discussion paper to have a "future ready new industrial policy" to seek comments while flagging jobs concerns. It warned of projected upward trends in automation leading to job losses and disproportionately slower growth in creation of job as compared to growth in output.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi likely to attend World Economic Forum meet in Davos next year

Prime minister Narendra Modi is likely to go to Davos next January to speak at the World Economic Forum's (WEF) annual meeting of global policy makers and top executives, becoming the first Indian premier in about two decades to do so.

WEF organisers have offered Modi top billing and he will be treated at par with Chinese president Xi Jinping, who was the star attraction at Davos this year.

If Modi goes, he will address a plenary session on January 23, the first day of the four-day long annual summit, which will be attended by the world's business elite.

The Prime Minister's visit is expected to be a short one as he has to be back for the Republic Day celebrations on January 26.

As the chief minister of Gujarat, Modi had attended the regional summit of the World Economic Forum in China in 2007. Subsequently, there had been a controversy over an invitation for him to attend the Davos meet in 2008, which had soured his relations with the WEF.

Legal news – August 2017

"Triple Talaq" Divorce Banned in India

On Aug. 22, the Supreme Court of India rules that the "triple talaq," a method of divorced practiced in some Islamic cultures, is unconstitutional. The traditional talaq observes a waiting period, for the couple to perhaps reconcile or confirm if the wife is pregnant. Wives are expected to receive financial support during this time. The triple talaq does not recognize this waiting period, allowing for immediate and arbitrary divorce. Women's rights advocates claim that this permitted widespread domestic abuse, as wives had no means of contesting the divorce, and that the status of divorcees could expose them to further exploitation

Same-Sex Marriage and Adoption Bill Sent to Congress in Chile

On Aug. 28, quickly following up on her successful public campaign to legalize select abortion, Chilean President Michelle Bachelet makes good on her campaign promise to send a same-sex marriage bill to Congress. Chile recognized civil unions two years prior, but the current bill would extend the full rights and privileges of marriage and adoption to same-sex marriage in Chile. While many are uncertain about her ability to pass the bill through before her term ends in March, many more celebrate this key step to marriage equality.

Rohingya Refugees Detained at Borders of Myanmar

On Aug. 27, Bangladeshi authorities capture and detain several dozen Rohingya refugees attempting to cross the border from Myanmar. The group was headed to the Kutupalong Refugee Camp, which has been accepting huge numbers of Rohingya Muslims since the onset of the violence in 2016. Regional authorities are uncertain how to handle the influx of thousands of Rohingya, who are fleeing widespread persecution and potential genocide.

India and China Reach Agreement Over Border

On Aug. 28, authorities in New Delhi and Beijing reach an agreement to deescalate tensions over the disputed Sino-Bhutanese border region of Doklam. After a two month-long standoff, India withdraws its troops, and the two countries agree to resume regular relations. India and China have gone to war over Bhutanese landholdings before, and many feared that the current crisis would lead to another war between the world's two largest countries.

North Korea Fires Missile Over Japan

On Aug. 29, in the latest of many ballistic missile tests, the North Korean military launches a Hwasong-12 missile nearly two thousand miles over the northern Japanese island of Hokkaido. Japan immediately goes on high alert, and key Japanese allies are quick to condemn the provocation. China similarly speaks out against the launch, but many are skeptical about Beijing's ability to rein in their aggressive neighbor.
