Course Outline

Objective: The primary objective of this paper is to answer the question how and why the present has evolved from the past in the manner it has. There is another reason which makes history so important. The way we perceive our past constructs our identity in the present and also builds our vision of the future. For this reason it is important to understand both historiography and historical methodology.

History must encourage critical thinking to identify myths and stereotypes, and embedded meanings and discourses. History helps us to understand the socio, economic and political context in which legal system emerge and evolve. A study of the nature of the state and administrative apparatus is required for proper understanding of the legal systems in ancient and medieval India. The paper will offer a close study of select themes, focusing specifically on the intersections in history and law.

Course Name: Moot Court -Interviewing Techniques Course Code: 16007700

Course contents

Part 1- Internship Preparation

This part will require the preparation of students to be attached with practicing lawyers with a minimum of ten years standing at the Bar or with some corporate body or with the lawyer observing client dealings, drafting, conducting fact investigations, etc. (As per SIP document).

During the court visits, the students will be required to observe the following stages in cases: Framing of charges / issues

- 1. Examination-in-Chief
- 2. Cross-examination
- 3. Final Arguments

In the lawyer's chamber they are required to do the following:

- 1. Read minimum of four case files to learn how files are prepared and maintained
- 2. Learn how to maintain records and accounts
- 3. Do legal research in at least two cases
- 4. Draft minimum of two documents in an ongoing case in the chamber
- 5. Observe client interviewing and counselling with the permission of the lawyer and clients in at least two cases

In court visits the students are required to observe the following stages and write reports of their observation in the diary:

- 1. Framing of charges
- 2. Examination-in-Chief
- 3. Cross-examination
- 4. Final arguments

The students are expected to maintain a diary of their court visits, work done during placement and their observations. In the diary, keep a log of the time spent each day including factual accounting of your experience of what you are doing, seeing and hearing. However, the diary should not be only descriptive of each day but should focus on what you learnt during the day.

- 1) What were you thinking and feeling about your experiences?
- 2) What is exciting or surprising?
- 3) What is bothering you?
- 4) What are your questions or insights about lawyering and judging?
- 5) What criticism or praise do you have for the legal system?
- 6) What else would you like to be taking place in your experience?

Please be careful that while writing your accounts you do not reveal any confidential information.

The diary should contain two parts:

- (a) the factual and analytical information about your internship; and
- (b) two legal documents drafted by you during internship.

The diary is an integral part of the course and you will be evaluated in terms of thoughtfulness and reflections about your learning experience. Be sure to write the journal in your own words even if you went with another class fellow or were in a group and observed the same things.

If two students are found to have copied each other's language, both the students will be given a zero for that work.

This part will be evaluated separately for 30 marks.

Part -2- Discussion on decided cases

- 1. Discussion of latest 6 Judgments of the Supreme Court and the High Courts
- 2. Methods of making briefs of judicial decisions
- 3. Organization of 2 Seminars on current legal topics
- 4. Quiz Competition
- 5. Debate Competition.
- 6. Legal Essay Writing Exercises

Comprehensive Viva shall be conducted by a board of examiners constituted by a Committee comprising of all faculty members involved in teaching Law Students. Important recent cases and any legislative changes on the subjects taught during the semester shall be discussed.

This part will be evaluated separately for 40 marks.

Part -3- Mock Court Participation

The students would be required to conduct Moot Courts in two cases, one Civil and one Criminal during the course of the semester. The students will be divided in teams of lawyers and witnesses. Each student will be required to function as a lawyer and witness in the trials being simulated in the classes. Students' performance will be evaluated on the basis of equal marks being assigned for case analysis, written submissions, Examination-in-chief, Cross-examination, and final arguments.

Participation in each moot court will be evaluated separately for 15 marks each. This part carries a total of 30 marks.

Course Name: Moot Court -Interviewing Techniques

Course Code: 16007700

Course contents

Part 1- Internship Preparation

This part will require the preparation of students to be attached with practicing lawyers with a minimum of ten years standing at the Bar or with some corporate body or with the lawyer observing client dealings, drafting, conducting fact investigations, etc. (As per SIP document).

During the court visits, the students will be required to observe the following stages in cases:

Framing of charges / issues

- 1. Examination-in-Chief
- 2. Cross-examination
- 3. Final Arguments

In the lawyer's chamber they are required to do the following:

- 1. Read minimum of four case files to learn how files are prepared and maintained
- 2. Learn how to maintain records and accounts
- 3. Do legal research in at least two cases
- 4. Draft minimum of two documents in an ongoing case in the chamber
- 5. Observe client interviewing and counselling with the permission of the lawyer and clients in at least two cases

In court visits the students are required to observe the following stages and write reports of their observation in the diary:

- 1. Framing of charges
- 2. Examination-in-Chief
- 3. Cross-examination
- 4. Final arguments

The students are expected to maintain a diary of their court visits, work done during placement and their observations. In the diary, keep a log of the time spent each day including factual accounting of your experience of what you are doing, seeing and hearing. However, the diary should not be only descriptive of each day but should focus on what you learnt during the day.

- 1) What were you thinking and feeling about your experiences?
- 2) What is exciting or surprising?
- 3) What is bothering you?
- 4) What are your questions or insights about lawyering and judging?
- 5) What criticism or praise do you have for the legal system?
- 6) What else would you like to be taking place in your experience?

Please be careful that while writing your accounts you do not reveal any confidential information.

The diary should contain two parts:

- (a) the factual and analytical information about your internship; and
- (b) two legal documents drafted by you during internship.

The diary is an integral part of the course and you will be evaluated in terms of thoughtfulness and reflections about your learning experience. Be sure to write the journal in your own words even if you went with another class fellow or were in a group and observed the same things.

If two students are found to have copied each other's language, both the students will be given a zero for that work.

This part will be evaluated separately for 30 marks.

Part -2- Discussion on decided cases

- 1. Discussion of latest 6 Judgments of the Supreme Court and the High Courts
- 2. Methods of making briefs of judicial decisions
- 3. Organization of 2 Seminars on current legal topics
- 4. Quiz Competition
- 5. Debate Competition.
- 6. Legal Essay Writing Exercises

Comprehensive Viva shall be conducted by a board of examiners constituted by a Committee comprising of all faculty members involved in teaching Law Students. Important recent cases and any legislative changes on the subjects taught during the semester shall be discussed.

This part will be evaluated separately for 40 marks.

Part -3- Mock Court Participation

The students would be required to conduct Moot Courts in two cases, one Civil and one Criminal during the course of the semester. The students will be divided in teams of lawyers and witnesses. Each student will be required to function as a lawyer and witness in the trials being simulated in the classes. Students' performance will be evaluated on the basis of equal marks being assigned for case analysis, written submissions, Examination-in-chief, Cross-examination, and final arguments.

Participation in each moot court will be evaluated separately for 15 marks each. This part carries a total of 30 marks.

Course: Women and Criminal Law

Course Code: 16011700

Course Outlines:

This course is designed to explore the important and under-studied intersection between gender/women and crime. The word intersection is used because the status structures commonly used by criminologists and sociologists never occur alone. Another way of saying this is that social scientists study a number of social demographics or correlates of crime at the same time. Thus in this class women involvement in crime, whether as victims or as offenders, or as professionals engaged in the criminal justice system, a number of these variables have to be investigated (studied) at the same time. The nature and extent of women as victims, offenders, and workers in the criminal justice system will be explored. The relationship between victimization and offending, and study the details of women in the criminal justice system as offenders or workers (professional as law enforcement officers, court personnel, correctional workers, etc.) will be investigated.

Student Learning Outcomes: At the end of the course the student will be able to:

- 1. Demonstrate their familiarity with topics associated with women (gender) and crime by being able to achieve at least 80% on any method of testing within this class

Course Name: Alternative Disputes Resolution

Course Code: 16009100

Course Outline

Objectives: Alternative Dispute Resolution has become the primary means by which cases are resolved now days, especially commercial, business disputes. It has emerged as the preferred method for resolving civil cases, with litigation as a last resort. Alternative Dispute Resolution provides an overview of the statutory, procedural, and case law underlining these processes and their interplay with litigation. A significant theme is the evolving role of professional ethics for attorneys operating in non-adversarial settings. Clients and courts increasingly express a preference for attorneys who are skilled not only in litigation but in problem-solving, which costs the clients less in terms of time, money and relationship. The law of ADR also provides an introduction to negotiation and mediation theory.

Course: Gender Justice and Feminist Jurisprudence

Course Code: 16012000

Course Outline:

The course offers to examine the potential of law for delivering gender justice, empowerment and equality. It juxtaposes the myriad laws that claim to protect rights of women, within a Constitutional framework of right to life with dignity, equality and non-discrimination, with ground realities of gender-based violence and discrimination, institutional bias and apathy, and impunity embedded in law. By developing a foundational understanding of feminist theories, principles and politics, as well as the engagement of the Indian women's movement with law, an analysis of the current Indian context is discussed through scholarly writings, an examination of statutes, judgments, law reform initiatives and discourses on law. While critically examining normative standards set by law, the course also acknowledges the limits of law and explores feminist re-imaginations of gender justice through non-state laws.

UNIT-I - Introduction to feminist jurisprudence

- a) Feminist theory, politics and jurisprudence
- b) Basic concepts, major schools of feminism
- a) Classical and contemporary feminist discourses, and their linkages with law
- b) Feminist critique of important institutions

UNIT-II = Gender equality and the law

- c) 'gender inclusion'
- d) 'gender blindness'
- e) 'gender neutrality
- f) 'gender sensitivity'
- g) 'gender mainstreaming'
- h) gender justice
- i) Types of and approaches to gender equality
- j) Women's movements' engagement with the law in India
- k) Initiatives for law reform around gender justice in India
- l) India's obligations to gender justice under international law and the Indian Constitution

UNIT-III - Feminist doctrines and their application to laws on violence against women in India

- m) Feminist doctrines, concepts and principles
- n) Exploring the application of Feminist doctrines to statutory laws and judgments on violence against women in India

UNIT-IV - Limits of law and re-imagining gender justice

- a) Prospects of gender justice within state and non-state laws and mechanisms for legal redress.
- b) Limits of law and feminist re-imaginations of gender justice.
- c) Homogenous laws vs. plural laws
- d) Feminist Judgment Project initiative
- e) Non-state and alternative dispute resolution mechanisms for women
- f) Transformation of feminist knowledge into praxis,
- g) Access to justice, legitimacy and effectiveness of non-state mechanisms for grievance redress for advancing gender justice.

Course: Comparative Laws

Course Code: 16012100

Course Outlines:

Comparative law is a quite unique legal subject in that it does not concern, in and of itself, any established legal products (corpus juris) on its own, such as comparative rules or comparative jurisprudence. (This feature may distinguish comparative law from international law.) One cannot locate any statutes or court decisions citing or referencing comparative law per se. Rather, comparative law is a field of legal study related to a methodology, or an approach, in probing and understanding other, i.e., foreign, legal systems and/or legal cultures. While comparison is a means with which to explore otherness (differences) among different legal systems, it also reveals a varying degree of sameness or likeness among them. At the end of this exploration, you will probably be able to better comprehend your own legal system than before.

This course has three goals: First, it seeks to expose students to a broad overview of the major legal systems of the world. Second, this course aims to provide students with the tools to carry out an efficient comparison between different legal systems. Third, this course invites students to consider the impact of recent developments (including global and regional integration, as well as the emergence of transnational business law) upon the traditional comparative method.

UNIT-I - - Introduction

- a) The traditional comparative method the structure of a comparative paper

Course: Election Law

Course Code: 16012400

Course Outline:

Elections are considered to be a process to achieve democracy and as an indispensable element in the establishment and continuation of any democracy. India is having a constitution that guarantees a democratic republic to its citizens. This is based unmistakably on adult franchise, though the question remains about the nature of right to vote whether fundamental or statutory.

The proposed course would offer both these perspectives, needless to say that both are having points of convergence than divergence. The subtle difference is that the Constitutional foundation gives a rights axis and the political perspective gives the philosophical position. The introduction of the course will be done on the political structure of democracy and will proceed to the postulate of free and fair elections.

- 1. To familiarize the students with the existing legal framework of elections to various democratic bodies/ posts
- 2. To critically analyse the present regime of laws with reference to the postulate of free and fair elections as the fundamental point of democracy
- 3. To learn the process of development/reforms in the field of election laws by parallel forces
 - a. Legislations/ Amendments
 - b. Judicial contributions

Course: International Commercial Law

Course Code: 16013100

Course Objectives:

This course introduces students to the dynamic filed of International Economic Law. More specifically, the course enables students to gain insight into the international monetary system as well as trade and investment law. The unit focuses particularly on the highly relevant field of international trade law. In today's globalised society, international trade transactions take place daily, and the rules which govern those transactions have become even more important in light of the broader move towards protectionism by many states, and in light of current world events e.g. Brexit.

The following are the aims of this course;

- 1. To provide an understanding of the field of international economic law;
- 2. To foster an understanding of the role played by international economic law in the development of international law in a globalised world, and in light of current world events e.g. move towards protectionist policies and Brexit;
- 3. To foster a basic understanding of international monetary law;
- 4. To examine the role of the WTO in international trade regulation;
- 5. To consider how international trade disputes may be settled;
- 6. To examine the role of free trade and regional trade agreements and how they fit with the multilateral trading system;
- 7. To very briefly introduce students to basic concepts within the law of foreign investment;
- 8. To develop students' capacity for critical analysis and independent thinking;
- 9. To develop a general range of transferable and generic skills in problem-solving and reasoning, computer literacy, time management and written and oral communication.
