I) INTRODUCTION/PREAMBLE

Feedback is the essence of two-way communication between the provider and the receiver. Effective feedback, both positive and negative, is important for continuous improvement as it helps in understanding the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and challenges faced by the university. It is advantageous to the university as well as the stakeholders as improvisations made based on the feedback received benefits all the stakeholders.

Feedback from students, parents, teachers', alumni and industry inculcates a sense of ownership about the organization and make them feel valued and responsible. Regular feedback is important for the entire organization to remain aligned to university's mission and vision and is part of continuous learning process for regular improvisations to serve better. The University in its mission for continuous improvement in all sectors, academic or administrative has entrusted IQAC with the responsibility for arranging feedback responses from all stakeholders of the University on quality related institutional processes.
