About FDP

- Dr. G.S. Karkara has emphasized on the enrichment of academic quality. He emphasized FDP is necessary according to UGC guidelines and it improves knowledge and skills of the faculty members
- Dr. Yuvraj Bhatnagar (Dean Academics) has discussed about how to use an outcome-based pedagogy to enrich the students as well. Outcome-based teaching and learning emphasizes the explicit declaration of learning outcomes which identify the tasks students are expected to be able to perform after completing the course, and to what standard.
- Dr. G.S. Karkara told about How to enrich academic quality. He discussed that enrichment of the academic programs is regarded as one of the indispensable factors to bring about improvements in the system of education and achieve academic goals. The main objective of educational institutions and training centres is to ensure, they make provision of adequate knowledge and information to the students regarding the academic concepts, which may prove to be beneficial to them in achieving personal and professional goals
- Dr. Manjoo Saraswat discussed the importance of outcome-based education system. How to prepare Lesson plan & Class diary in Faculty File. She was of the view that change is the only constant today, and with it, comes the need for education systems to update and adapt their approach or risk becoming obsolete altogether.
- Dr. Vikash Sharma told that How to prepare Lesson plan & Class diary in Faculty File followed by Live demonstration. A lesson plan is the instructor's road map of what students need to learn and how it will be done effectively during the class time. Then, you can design appropriate learning activities and develop strategies to obtain feedback on student learning. Having a carefully constructed lesson plan for each 3-hour lesson allows you to enter the classroom with more confidence and maximizes your chance of having a meaningful learning experience with your students.
- Dr. A. S. Ram Narayan delivered his lecture on Understanding the psychology of students followed by case study. The principles are organized into five areas of psychological functioning: cognition and learning; motivation; social and emotional dimensions; context and learning; and assessment. Each of the individual principles listed in the document includes an explanation of the concept, its relevance for instruction, specific tips for teachers and a comprehensive list of related references.
- Dr. Ram Panday explained the Importance of case study method and a live session on the same. The most significant benefit of case studies is that they enable a holistic review. Unlike standalone research techniques which give more of a snapshot, eg surveys, a case study offers the opportunity for a researcher to use a range of tools on one subject. This gives time and space to build a detailed understanding of the topic, establishing a sound platform from which to explore the factors influencing the case study in greater detail.

- Dr. Noble kurian delivered his lecture on Challenges in modern education & solution followed by question answer session. The education system enables youth to prepare for their future. Educational institutes are responsible for the skills, mind, and character development of students. However, there are many flaws in the education system that never let students achieve their desired goals. This is because of the old methods that never allow students to compete with the real world.
- Dr. G.S. Karkara expressed his views on Legal Awareness to the general masses followed by problem solving session. He also discussed two core points in the concept of principles of natural justice.

Outcomes:

- Faculty members were made aware about enrichment of the academic programs is regarded as one of the indispensable factors to bring about improvements in the system of education and achieve academic goals. The Objective of educational institutions and training centres is to ensure, they make provision of adequate knowledge and information to the students regarding the academic concepts, which may prove to be beneficial to them in achieving personal and professional goals.
- Faculty members were also learned and trained about different teaching pedagogy, class room etiquettes interactive teaching mode & also learned about how to teach outcome-based learning in the classroom. It was a good & interactive session & everyone presented their respective talks in well-mannered style.
- Proper coordination was reflected in introductory & closing session Vote of thanks was extended by - Dr. Dipali Gupta (Registrar).

About the FDP-

- The Event was started on time in which all the faculty members were present. Dr G.S. Kalkara gave the brief introduction of the theme of FDP. This was very effective. A woman is a mother, daughter, sister and wife.
- Dr Vikas Sharma has shared his important views on Gender Gap & Ice Breaking Gender Main streaming, Perspective & Sensitivity. A number of different models and theories have been put forward to explain how men have predominantly placed themselves, and been placed, in social hierarchy over women. The idea of 'patriarchy' is often used as a shorthand for male dominance, and it has also itself been the subject of more detailed theories
- Dr. Manjoo Saraswat discussed about the Leadership in Universities, establishing Strategy and global Visibility. Universities' challenges matter to all of society. As higher education systems around the world grow in scale and scope, there are simultaneous pressures on the government and corporate expenditures supporting universities.
- Dr A S Ramnarayana focused on the Women Entrepreneurship who innovate, initiate or adopt a business activity. Women entrepreneurship is a growing field around the world. It is on the agenda of most international development agencies and multilateral organizations and is a focus of many foundations and civil society organizations. However, women remain substantially under-represented as entrepreneurs, even in countries where women's participation in the labour market has been constantly increasing.
- Dr. Kumud Sarin talked about the Mentoring has been demonstrated to increase Satisfactions in the environment of higher Education among Women. The term 'job satisfaction' refers to the perceived feelings of an employee towards his/her job. It is a psychological feeling and has rational and emotional.
- Dr. Ajoy Kumar Mitra discussed about Women's styles of networking include finding valuable long-term business contacts, hearing advice from peers and experts, sharing knowledge and experiences, all with an emphasis on making connections and collaboration.
- Dr. Mahendra Kr. Ghadoliya discussed about the Governance of Higher Educational Institutes and its achievements of women can have ripple effects within the family and across generations. Women in India are not a homogenous category and their education journey is shaped by socio-religious context.
- Dr. Rohit Kr. Mishra discussed about the increasing and influential role in the administration play by women leadership of higher education institutions, understanding their unique contributions is critical. Women constitute around 48% of the total population of India.
- Dr Mayank Agrawal discussed about the SDGs & Gender Equity He said that gender equality is a fundamental human right. Yet despite progress, women and girls around the world do not fully experience equal rights and their potential as economic, social and sustainable development change-agents remains untapped. Faculty members were made aware about- different teaching pedagogy, class room etiquettes interactive teaching mode & also learned about how to teach outcome-based learning in the classroom.

Outcomes

- Faculty members were made aware about Skill based education is important as if we have only knowledge and don't possess skills then there will be no value of that knowledge. Skill development should also integrate into the higher education so that after completion of their studies youth can get job with the combination of knowledge and skill.
- Faculty members were also learned and trained about different teaching pedagogy, class room etiquettes interactive teaching mode & also learned about how to teach outcome-based learning in the classroom. It was a good & interactive session & everyone presented their respective talks in well-mannered style.

About the Speaker: Dr. Rahul Chandra is the Joint Director, Institute of company secretaries of India having a vast experience of research & administration.

About the FDP-

- Dr. Kumud Sareen gave the brief introduction of the theme of FDP. She called for the need to accept changes in accordance with the changes in technology that obviously was influencing research in very many ways. In her own discourse she highlighted the significance of SPSS and its relevance in research methodologies.
- In The first session Dr. Rahul Chandra shared his important views on the Need and Importance of Faculty File. He mentioned that Probability distributions are an important foundational concept in probability and the names and shapes of common probability distributions will be familiar. The structure and type of the probability distribution varies based on the properties of the random variable, such as continuous or discrete, and this, in turn, impacts how the distribution might be summarized or how to calculate the most likely outcome and its probability.
- In the second session Dr. Rahul Chandra said that the Sampling distribution is a statistic that determines the probability of an event based on data from a small group within a large population. Its primary purpose is to establish representative results of small samples of a comparatively larger population. Since the population is too large to analyse, you can select a smaller group and repeatedly sample or analyse them. The gathered data, or statistic, is used to calculate the likely occurrence, or probability, of an event.
- In the first session on next day he discussed about T test. A t-test is an inferential statistic used to determine if there is a significant difference between the means of two groups and how they are related. T-tests are used when the data sets follow a normal distribution and have unknown variances, like the data set recorded from flipping a coin 100 times. The t-test is a test used for hypothesis testing in statistics and uses the t-statistic, the t-distribution values, and the degrees of freedom to determine statistical significance.
- In the second session he explained Correlation analysis is applied in quantifying the association between two continuous variables, for example, a dependent and independent variable or among two independent variables. Regression analysis refers to assessing the relationship between the outcome variable and one or more variables. The outcome variable is known as the dependent or response variable and the risk elements, and co-founders are known as predictors or independent variables. The dependent variable is shown by "y" and independent variables are shown by "x" in regression analysis. The sample of a correlation coefficient is estimated in the correlation analysis. It ranges between -1 and +1, denoted by r and quantifies the strength and direction of the linear association among two variables. The correlation among two variables can either be positive, i.e. a higher level of one variable is related to a higher level of another or negative, i.e. a higher level of one variable is related to a lower level of the other.

- Vote of thanks was extended by Ms. Shikha Saxena.

About the SOPDP-

- Dr. Kumud Sarin gave the brief introduction of the theme 'Understanding MS Office' that what is this topic and why it is important to understand about MS Office and staff learned from the session that how much important SOPDP is in their development and also learned about MS office and their component.
- Mr. Sanjay Diddee explained about the Use of MS Word that, University use only MS words documents for keeping records hence it is important to understand operations of MS Word. They explained how a word document can be created, using MS Word and how it can be kept safe and secure till years. They explained all important features of MS words.
- Mr. Pradip Yadav explained about the use of MS Excel. They added that through MS Excel can be used to draw very valuable reflections on data. They explained its features and how we can use them for increasing productivity and doing our operations they explained about important features like graphing tools, pivot tables, Pie Charts, Filters and Formulas.
- Mr. Sanjay Diddee explained about the Use of MS PowerPoint that, University use only MS PowerPoint for Presentation of data and things and hence it is important to understand operations of MS PowerPoint, they explained how a Presentation can be created, using MS PowerPoint and how it can be kept safe and secure till years. They explained all important features of MS PowerPoint.
- Mr. Pradip Yadav told explained about the use of MS Outlook. He told that it can be used both as a single-user application or multi-user software. Its functions also include task managing, calendaring, contact managing, journal logging and web browsing.
- Mr. Sanjay Diddee has briefly explained about use of MS OneNote. It is a note-taking application. The notes may include images, text, tables, etc. It can be used both online and offline and is a multi-user application.
- Mr. Pradip Yadav opened the session of question and answers, all questions were answered.

Outcome

- Faculty members were made aware about- MS Office, MS Word, MS PowerPoint, MS Excel, MS Outlook, their inbuilt features and how one can use these tools for increasing productivity.
- It was a good & interactive session & everyone presented their respective talks in well-mannered style.
- Proper coordination was reflected throughout session, vote of thanks extended by Mr. Mahendra Kr. Ghadoliya, Registrar.

About the FDP-

- Mr. Sanjay Diddee told about the benefits of using computer technology. He told many of use like it increase student engagement, more collaboration, improve digital literacy, automatic grading, get student data, stay in touch, keep up with classroom management, flip the class room. Get creative, go paperless, publish and present student work, personalize learning for every student.
- He teaches the use of excel. The activities, such as, preparing lesson plans, grading papers, creating graphs or tables and many more can be carried out effectively and efficiently by using excel spreadsheets.
- The objective of this FDP was to foster the level of technical teaching and research aptitude of the young faculty members, the one-day FDP programme was conducted knowledge imparting sessions touching broad segments of Computer Science and Information technology. It covered various domains with different technical sessions imparting knowledge from networks to neural networks, big data to machine learning, research paper writing etc.
- Proper coordinated was reflected in introductory and closing session Vote of thanks was extended by Saniay Diddee.
