The convener, Dr. Deepali Malodiya, welcomed the newly appointed members to our esteemed Women Cell. Dr. Tripti soni (Assistant professor) from SOASS, Sonam Pareek (Assistant professor) from FOBAS. She emphasized that their addition in the committee marks a significant step towards enhancing the committee's capabilities and ensuring a comprehensive approach to our Women Cell initiatives. Both contribute insights from their respective fields.

Item No. 12(3): Conducting a session on women empowerment and gender sensitization in Orientation Program.

During the meeting chaired by Dr. Deepali Malodiya under the auspices of the Women Cell, discussions revolved around the upcoming Orientation Program for new students, focusing on creating a welcoming and informative event. The agenda included activities like campus tours, introduction sessions, and workshops aimed at familiarizing the students with campus facilities, rules, and academic processes. Emphasis was placed on fostering a supportive environment for female students, including mentorship opportunities and counseling services. The committee agreed to integrate sessions on women's empowerment, career guidance, and safety awareness to enrich the program's content.

Additionally, discussions revolved around promoting girl child education through scholarship programs and initiatives within the institution, highlighting the Women Cell's commitment to supporting female students' educational journey. The goal is to not only welcome new students but also to inspire and support their educational journey, encouraging them to excel and contribute positively to society. A detailed plan was laid out, including forming a planning committee, developing an agenda, and communicating effectively with stakeholders. The overarching aim is to ensure a smooth and impactful orientation experience for the incoming female students, promoting their integration and success within the academic community.

Item No. 12(4): Future Roadmap and Action Plan

The committee members diligently reviewed the performance of our current Women Cell. The future roadmap for Women cell initiatives entails building upon existing best practices, ensuring continuous improvement and innovation. Dr. Deepali Malodiya emphasized the importance of the Women Cell's future activities in fostering a supportive and empowering environment for female students. She highlighted the mentorship program as a key initiative to provide guidance and support to freshmen, encouraging their academic success. Additionally, workshops on women's health, career development, and leadership skills were discussed as vital tools for empowering female students.

The significance of community outreach programs and awareness campaigns in promoting gender equality and women's rights. The establishment of a scholarship program for financially disadvantaged female students was also noted as a crucial step towards inclusivity and opportunity. Overall, the discussion centered on creating holistic development opportunities for female students, aligning with the Women Cell's commitment to promoting their integration and success within the academic community. Planned activities as follows:

3.	MS. Zaiba Khan	Assistant Professor	Member
4.	Dr. Arpita Gupta	National Chief Administrator Human Right Int. Federation	External member

All committee members were greeted by the Chairperson of the Women cell.

Item No. 11(1): Confirmation of the minutes of 10th Meeting of Women cell held on 16-01-2023.

Dr. Deepali Malodiya (Chairperson) carefully checked the notes from our last meeting. In that meeting, committee members had outlined several activities, including the POSH act and an Awareness Program on Menstrual Hygiene and Safety. However, due to some reasons (SPREE and INSPIRE), we had to postpone them. This delay might give us an opportunity to further refine our plans, gather more resources to execute these activities. The date for the POSH Act and Women Empowerment meeting was decided during this meeting for August 18, 2023, and the menstrual hygiene awareness program will be conducted on September 9, 2023.

Item No. 11(2): Deliberation regarding hosting a session aimed at promoting gender awareness

Discussion on organizing a session to promote gender awareness was initiated. The importance of fostering inclusivity and understanding in our university community through such sessions was highlighted. Various suggestions were made regarding the content and structure of the session, including the possibility of inviting guest speakers. The committee members brainstormed potential topics to be covered, such as gender stereotypes, discrimination, and methods for advancing gender equality. An agenda and content outline were developed based on the meeting discussions. Ms. Zaiba Khan has been given the responsibility of planning and executing the session, including handling logistics and promotional activities.

Item No. 11(3): Session dedicated to empowering women, coinciding with the International yoga day

Dr. Deepali Malodiya led the meeting, focusing on arranging an empowering event for International Yoga Day. The committee talked about organizing an event that provides support to female students through mentorship and counseling. They agreed to include sessions on women's empowerment, career guidance, and safety awareness to enrich the program. Discussions also revolved around promoting girl child education through scholarships and other initiatives within the institution. The Women's Cell is dedicated to assisting female students in their educational journey and motivating them to succeed. Plans were made to create a planning committee and outline a detailed agenda for the event. Dr. Deepali Malodiya has taken the responsibility and will supervise the planning and execution, handling logistical arrangements and promotional activities.

Item No. 11(4): Future Action Plan

The committee carefully looked at how well our Women's Cell is doing now. In the future, we want to keep getting better and trying new things based on what's working well. Dr. Deepali Malodiya said it's really important for the Women's Cell to make a supportive and encouraging atmosphere for female students. She talked about how the mentorship program is a big part of that, helping new students do well in their studies by giving them advice and help. We also talked about having workshops on things like women's health, jobs, and being a leader to help empower female students.
